Lifestyle Management Coaching FAQs

What is lifestyle management coaching?

Sharecare's lifestyle management coaching is designed to help you reach your health goals one phone call at a time. Our qualified coaches work as a team to give you expert advice, insights and a plan to help you eat healthier, focus on fitness, lose weight, quit using tobacco, manage stress and more. Then, they'll hold you accountable, making sure you stay on track and meet the goal you want to achieve. You can work with a coach to:

- Build a fitness routine you enjoy and can stick with
- Plan healthy meals for you and your family
- Determine life stressors and how to better manage them daily
- Map out a weight-management strategy to keep you feeling your best
- Create a plan to help you quit tobacco or vaping for good
- Spice up your exercise routine or healthy eating plan

A coach will listen to your concerns and work with you to overcome setbacks. They'll act as your guide, your cheerleader, your accountability partner and more – right from the first phone call. You can call a coach or use in-app digital support to enroll in coaching or send them a message. The program is private, voluntary and offered to you at no extra cost.

Who are the coaches and what are their qualifications?

Coaches are trained, qualified experts with degrees in various fields, from nutrition and fitness to psychology and public health education. In just one call, a coach will put you at ease and show you exactly what coaching can do for you. You are in good hands with all of our coaches.

Why should I work with a coach?

Research shows that having accountability can help you more easily reach your goals. A lifestyle management coach is the perfect accountability partner to help you reach your health goals, no matter where you are on your well-being journey.

Is coaching confidential?

Yes. You can be open and honest with your coach. What you discuss stays between the two of you and will never be shared with your employer or anyone else.

Who can participate in coaching?

Sharecare's coaching program is available to all regular Benefits-eligible employees.

You don't have to have a specific medical condition or health issue to work with a coach. They can work with you on almost any health or wellness goals you have.

How much time does it take?

During your first call, a coach gets to know you and your goals and helps you find realistic ways to reach them. From there, you'll check in with a coach every four to six weeks – or more, if you choose, in 10 to 15-minute sessions. Calls can be scheduled at a time that works best for you, and you can always call 855-203-5506 and select 2 to speak with a coach. Whatever you need, a coach is there to support you for up to an entire year.

How do I get started?

You have two options:

1.) Call 855-203-5506 and select the appropriate phone tree option. On the first call, you'll be asked questions to confirm your identity, ensuring your information is secure and confidential. You will learn more about lifestyle management coaching and get answers to your questions. We'll schedule your first call with a coach based on your availability and what's most convenient for you.

2.) You can also enroll digitally through the Sharecare app! Register or sign-in at parsons.sharecare.com, select Achieve, then select Coaching. First, you'll answer a few short questions, then you'll be matched with a coach, and then you'll schedule your first call. It's that easy!

Ongoing support

A coach is with you, every step of the way. Together, you'll work on your custom plan that fits into your daily life and routine. Any coach can pick up where you left off. A coach is one call away, and you also have in-app digital support to ask a coach a question or even schedule a call. As coaching continues, coaches will:

- Listen and help you tap into your motivation and inspiration
- Set small, specific, achievable steps toward meeting your larger goals that fit your lifestyle
- Help you through areas of struggle
- Partner with you to find practical solutions and overcome challenges
- Hold you accountable
- Answer your questions and give you educational materials as needed
